

Master data for new Balance Responsibility Parties and Ancillary Service Providers

| Master data regarding new balance responsible party and/or ancillary service provider |             |            |                    |       |      |      |
|---|-------------|------------|--------------------|-------|------|------|
| Company name  |             |            |                    |       |      |      |
| Address   |             |            |                    |       |      |      |
| Post number   |             |            |                    |       |      |      |
| City  |             |            |                    |       |      |      |
| CVR   |             |            |                    |       |      |      |
| EIC   |             |            |                    |       |      |      |
| GLN   |             |            |                    |       |      |      |
| Name of the company contact   |             |            |                    |       |      |      |
| E-mail of the company contact   |             |            |                    |       |      |      |
| Phone number of the company contact   |             |            |                    |       |      |      |
| Balance responsibility – you can choose several                                       |             |            |                    |       |      |      |
| Trade   | Consumption | Production | Ancillary Services |       |      |      |
|   |             |            |                    |       |      |      |
| Markets you wish to enter   |             |            |                    |       |      |      |
|   | FFR         | FRC-D      | FCR                | FCR-N | aFRR | mFRR |
| DK1   |             |            |                    |       |      |      |
| DK2   |             |            |                    |       |      |      |

Fill in the required data and send it to electricitymarket@energinet.dk